

Hoof Measuring Guide

1. After a fresh trim, measure the width of the hoof across the bottom at the widest point.
2. Measure the length of the hoof from the toe to the buttress line of the heel. The buttress line is the farthest weight-bearing point of the heel where the wall ends. Do not include the bulbs of the heel in the measurement.

3. Compare your measurements with the appropriate size chart. Please note that each boot style has a unique size chart found on the product page.
4. Ideally, the length and width measurements will fit into the same size. If the length and width measurements indicate different sizes, select the larger size. If the length and width measurements are different by more than one size, your selected boot style is not recommended. Be sure to check your measurements against an alternative boot style that may accommodate your horse's hoof shape better.
